20 YEARS OF HELP in Tanzania with your support - that means first of all a big thank you to each of you! I would also like to thank you on behalf of our employees and children. Additionally, I would like to thank all those who have supported us in Frankfurt and of course all the staff in Tanzania.

WE REMAIN STEADFAST. Corona is still sweeping across the planet like a storm, throwing many plans out of kilter. We wanted to celebrate our 20th anniversary in a big way - now it becomes this annual report and a place in our hearts. My heart and all my senses are rejoicing and I remain positive, despite all that has happened and all that is yet to come.

It is truth, beauty and good that has sustained us for the past 20 years. You have seen or experienced how we can help on the ground. Unfortunately however, compared to us, the majority of people in Tanzania are still no better off than 20 years ago. Rapid population growth, no major reforms in education or health care, and political and economic uncertainty for almost five years now - Tanzania is suffering. It hurts to see how difficult life is there for our children and young people. However, we have given our children a foundation, thanks to you, and this will endure.

WE STAY YOUNG. In 2020, we welcomed more children and hired new staff members. Our Montessori kindergarten is virtually self-supporting, our school has been running for a year already, and we can see from our children's achievements thus far that this was a good decision.

WE ARE ALSO MAKING HISTORY IN THE CORONA YEAR 2020. It is the first time we have not been on site yet everything is working. Africa belongs to Africans, I have always said that. Almost all the economic advisors have left the country and it is also becoming more difficult for us because there is a special focus on foreign organizations. We have to be extra careful not to violate the laws and regulations of the country through ignorance or carelessness.

WE CONTINUE TO HELP our (and other) children who have no one else. This is good and it is necessary. And it does good - not just for the child who receives the help but the one giving it.

Daniel Preuß with Aisha 20 years ago

WE WILL CONTINUE TO BE A SMALL ORGANIZATION INTO THE FUTURE.

We want to remain in a position to welcome you as our guest and to bring you closer to our work since almost everyone who has been there is inspired by what we do. Not only due to the children, but also the staff, the processes in place, the vegetation, the food and the country. Tanzania is still one of the most popular travel destinations. We are looking forward to seeing who will come to visit or even return in the future.

Our staff in Tanzania are an important part of our work and are just as happy about our 20th anniversary as we are in Germany. We would like to share their congratulations with you here. Mama Suzi has been with us from the beginning, our country manager and „house mother“:

CONGRATULATIONS

TANZANIA

FROM MAMA SUZI

CONGRATULATIONS STREETKIDS INTERNATIONAL!

I am Eva Laiton Shega, foster parent in our orphanage “Tumaini Children’s home” and Country Director of Streetkids International e.V. I have been working with Streetkids International for 17 years now.

Our Orphanage was founded in 2000 with three children at first. Then, Daniel decided to give more orphans a home and we took care of seven children. Back then, the orphanages’ name was “Streetkids”, but it was soon changed to “Tumaini” in 2003. The word Tumaini has a great meaning in our language, it translates to hope, which is exactly what orphans need. In 2008, Streetkids International bought a plot in the coastal region of Tanzania because Daniel saw it as a great opportunity to help more children.

On this plot, we plant our own vegetables and fruits, therefore our children have access to nutritious, fresh food which benefits their health. The plot is very nice, peaceful and safe for the children. Over the years, Streetkids International educated and raised children who are now independent. I am happy to see these children having a brighter future because they had access to high quality education. When the children come to our orphanage, some are broken and need extra love, patience and hope. As a mother to all of them it gives me joy to see them prosper and act as responsible adults. The younger children continue with their education until they are old enough to be independent, too.

Tumaini Children’s home has been a refuge for many orphans. I would like to thank all of our donators and sponsors for the donations that enable our kids to enjoy good food, safe shelter, clean water, peace and happiness. I also thank our almighty GOD for all of you and your giving hearts, I pray that HE may protect you and watch over you. The seeds you are sowing in Tanzania are growing. I am forever grateful. Twenty years of Streetkids have brought a lot of hope to many children!

ASANTENI SANA (Thank you so much),
Eva (Mama Suzi)

CONGRATULATIONS GERMANY FROM ANKE PAPKE

CONGRATULATIONS: TWENTY YEARS OF STREETKIDS – CERTAINLY A REASON TO CELEBRATE

A small non-profit organization like Streetkids International has to have a convincing concept to be noticed in the concert of the big aid organizations. With Streetkids now in its twentieth year, this proof has been more than provided!

I came across the Frankfurt-based organization rather by chance and was fully convinced after my visit to the office! The idea of founding an orphanage in Tanzania with only voluntary support and enabling the children there to grow in a loving environment and to receive a school education was and still is amazing to me. The fact that this has been happening successfully for twenty years with so much commitment and enthusiasm, and it continues to expand, is a cause for celebration and worthy of great recognition and support.

Last year, Streetkids partnered with our foundation to launch our first educational sponsorship for students. The first participant, Ezekia, who has lived at the orphanage since 2007, has now successfully completed his first year of studies in his field of „Human Resources Management“. We are very proud of him and hope that this program can also be expanded with the support of further sponsors.

Once again, congratulations on the twentieth anniversary of the program and to all those involved, we wish you continued success and joy in your work for the young people in Tanzania.

CONGRATULATIONS TANZANIA FROM MIRIAM

My passion for educating made me study for a Montessori Education degree. Whilst studying I met Furaha, one of the children brought up at Tumaini children's Home. In 2014 I joined the team of Streetkids International which had opened a kindergarten being run by Furaha in one of the children's rooms. The first time I joined I just fell in love with the children. In their eyes I could see that they need something which I could offer. Most of the children have never been to school before.

What touches my heart the most is what the children go through before they come to the Orphanage. You need a lot of patience to wait for them to open up because they can be a little bit shy and scared. Counselling and playing with them whilst they learn helps them to open up and to heal. In my time teaching, the children also taught me something: to be grateful and to appreciate what I have.

Back in 2015, the kindergarten was built in one of the plots and was called Tumaini Montessori Friends Kindergarten. It has spacious classes, learning materials and a play area. Montessori education helped these children to explore and express themselves and to learn how to be independent. The type of education they get is of high quality. This is also one of the factors that leads externals to want to join the kindergarten, which is now being run by Furaha and Aisha. The kindergarten is also fully registered and has a license.

I am so glad to be part of this journey where I can help to educate children. The only inheritance that can't be taken away and which any child can be given is education.

In 2019, a Tumaini Montessori learning centre was opened which is called "Tumaini Montessori Tuition". Our goal is to assist our weaker children and all our primary school children. Learning closer to their home helps them to be free and to feel safe in a known environment. They have guaranteed access to clean water and nutritious food. It has also helped them in their performances. I'm convinced that the children get the best education in our community.

I am very grateful for having been given the chance to be part of Streetkids International for the past 6 years and I don't have any regrets, MIRIAM

This year we were also able to accept two new children: Here are the admission reports of Rehema and Victor (The names of persons have been changed for data protection reasons).

REHEMA was born on 7th April 2015 in Lugoba, Bagamoyo. Her mother Grace lived with her boyfriend, who left her when she was seven months pregnant. She contracted tuberculosis while still pregnant. As a result, she moved back in with Rehema's grandmother. The mother died of cardio-pulmonary failure on 26th April 2014.

Rahel's grandmother had a small business selling food and became Rehema's legal guardian. Rahel has five children in total: two of them have a precarious existence, one with an alcohol problem and one with meningitis, and two other children who need to be taken care of. There is only one child who, through his work as a conductor can support his grandmother, but he earns very little money. When Rehema turned three, her grandmother developed ulcers and numbness in her legs and hands. Because of this, she cannot work or help the child.

Rehema's grandma heard about us through government agencies and asked for help. Rehema has been with us since 21st September 2020 and does not have a sponsor yet.

NEW CHILDREN WITHOUT SPONSOR PARENTS

VICTOR was born on 12th July 2014 in Ilala, a region of Dar es Salaam. His parents, Paul and Judith, were originally from Kigoma. They had a total of five children. In 2015, Victor's father was attacked and beaten up, causing him to suffer serious longterm injuries. On 21st June 2015, he was involved in an accident and succumbed to his head injuries in the hospital. That same year, one of Victor's brothers fell from a coconut tree and also died. A short time later, the mother suffered a fatal stroke. After the death of both parents, no relatives came to take the children in or support them. Pastor Asaii of the local church became the legal guardian of the four children as they attended his church. Unfortunately, however, he was unable to care for all four children.

The pastor found out about us through another pastor and then went to the social welfare office to ask for help and support for Victor since he was still very young. Pastor Asaii will continue to take care of Victor's three siblings. Victor has been a member of our Streetkids family since 17th September 2020.

BEACH CLEANUP

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

ENVIRONMENTAL AND SUSTAINABILITY EDUCATION play a major role in our teaching. Our children learn from an early age how important their actions are – for a greener Tanzania, for a greener world and for a better and livable future. This year we took the opportunity to put this environmental education into practice on our own doorstep.

In January, we took our kids to the beach to clean up trash as part of a Beach Cleanup campaign. The children had a lot of fun and were able to learn about sustainability and environmental protection through their own experiences.

WATER IS LIFE

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

WATER IS LIFE and moving water across a 16,000 square foot property is not easy. We had major supply problems when I arrived. With the help of an expert, a lot of digging, pipe laying and pipe decommissioning, we have enough clean water around the clock.

NEW EMPLOYEES

We have new house-parents since April 2020. We parted ways with Cyprian and his family after almost 10 years and are happy to have found new house-parents for our boys' house. Frederick and his wife Margreth are parents of two children themselves, 14-year-old Subira and nine-year-old Luxford. We hope that they will do well with us and we wish them a good start.

MOVE MAMA SUZI OF HOUSE PARENTS

On 31st December 2019, Mama Suzi and the girls moved to the new „Tumaini II“ property. The girls make up the majority of our orphans and our building on the new property (we have had it since 2012) is the larger one. It also houses our office and educational facilities. Cyprian and the boys moved back to the first property.

During the move, we found bed bug infestations in 90% of the beds and mattresses. We took this as an opportunity to restructure our hygiene measures and check the beds at regular intervals. These measures were also included in our policies and we hope that we are now better protected. Our children will not forget the big fire for a long time where we had to burn all the mattresses. All infested fabrics, beds, frames, etc. were treated and partly renewed and are now „bug-free“.

ORGANIZATION ON SITE

Our longest working employee on site is Mama Suzi - she is officially our Country Manager and together with our social worker also the contact person for the authorities. Since the beginning of 2020, we have a new account at the bank with online access (progress is also slowly arriving in Tanzania) and Mama Suzi is practicing online banking.

Our young adults Gideon, Ezekia, Yohanna and Peter now live outside our walls, but continue to be supported to some extent.

INTERNSHIP IN TANZANIA

INTERNSHIP REPORT PAULINE BAHR NOVEMBER 2019 – JANUARY 2020

Three months in Tanzania, three months experiencing a different culture and giving something back. Those were my thoughts when I decided to take this adventure after my high school graduation.

My name is Pauline Bahr, I am 18 years old and I met many wonderful people in Tanzania and had experiences that I can't easily put into words. In the beginning I had to get used to the heat, the food and the overall newness of the situation, but the conversations with other volunteers on site helped me a lot and it went relatively fast.

In Tanzania, everything runs more slowly. Punctuality is not taken as seriously as it is here. You wash everything by hand, the food is monotonous and sometimes the electricity or water fails completely.

In the first four weeks I mainly helped in the school. My job was mostly to work on assignments with weaker students. After the school day was over, homework was done, laundry was done, and games were played. On Saturdays I spent time with the children or we took trips to the market and shopped there. On Sundays we always went to church, it was nice to watch everyone singing and dancing.

At the parties there was a lot of dancing, laughing and eating. Christmas and New Year's Eve were also new experiences for me. Christmas is celebrated there on 25th December and after going to church there was a feast. The new year was started with a prayer followed by a lot of noise made with shouting and drumming. But the greatest experience was the wedding of Furaha, it was all a unique, loud and colorful celebration.

On my last day we undertook a very special initiative, we went to the beach together and cleaned it from plastic waste.

But besides these big moments, there were also so many small moments that I will carry in my heart forever. Like once when the power went out and little Kelvin squeezed my hand really tight until the lights came back on, how Mercy and Jasmin braided my hair or when we went to the beach and all spent the whole day in the water. My favorite time was always in the evenings after dinner when I would sit with the little ones in the house and just watch them play. They would tell me stories, or sometimes I would bring my cell phone to listen to music and everyone would dance.

I also particularly enjoyed the church services that were always held on Wednesdays and Fridays, when everyone gathered to pray and sing.

After 12 weeks it was time to pack my bags. It was a very intense time and I am incredibly grateful to have had this experience and to have met all the people there. Many of the children told me how grateful they were for the opportunity to simply be children. Watching them play and noticing how happy they are really makes your heart soar.

VISITS TO TANZANIA

Daniela with Mama Suzi

Bianca and Natalia with Mama Suzi

Pauline, Friedeborg and Svanhild

Alexandra with Rosemary

Ines and her daughter Milla

January and February were still Corona-free regarding visiting so some visitors from Germany came over including Daniela, the wife of our second director, on a flying visit with her friend.

Bianca, our sponsorship advisor from Frankfurt, and Natalia, our intern at that time were also there. Both enjoyed it very much and Bianca found the site visit and the initiatives we did together especially of great value.

Friedeborg came for the second time and brought her sister from Germany. She treated all the children to a whole day at the beach. For this we needed two big buses and some organizational talent. And what was really great was that Anke, our godmother, came with her daughter Mara over Christmas, for the third time! Ines with her daughter Milla also came for several weeks. She developed a Mother-Child Africa-Experience program for us for the time after Corona.

FURAHA'S WEDDING

Wedding guests - Gideon and Aisha

FURAHA, THE DIRECTOR OF THE MONTESSORI KINDERGARTEN GOT MARRIED.

Her husband Oskar was proud and overjoyed. It was a special day and a lavish celebration, Tanzanian style, with lots of colors, dancing, singing, music and good food. Furaha came to us as a child and stayed on working with us. It is an uplifting and satisfying feeling to see how the work that started 20 years ago is bearing fruit. I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has supported us along the way. It is truly great!

HELPING PEOPLE ALISSA HEGE TO HELP THEMSELVES

Intern Pauline has fun with the kids

Study paper by Alissa Hege, student intern

You have certainly heard the term „helping others to help themselves“ but what does it mean when it comes to the example of a small Frankfurt children's aid organization such as Streetkids International e.V.?

This principle is an essential part of sustainable development. People who find themselves in emergency situations, such as poverty, and with few opportunities to realize a future worth living need to be supported in finding their own way out of their emergency situation independently and sustainably.

This means that not only the acute situational circumstances should be improved but ideally, preventive measures also taken against future emergency situations.

Help is provided to the extent that people can free themselves from these situations in the future and independently of external help.

The basic prerequisite for this is that the people concerned are motivated and prepared to take responsibility, since no improvement is possible if there is no desire to improve the situation.

In addition, they must be involved in the decisions made by those providing aid to ensure a collaboration. The goal is for people to live self-determined, free lives characterized by personal responsibility. They become responsible citizens who increasingly participate actively in society.

The aim is not to create a relationship of dependency between „donor“ and „recipient“, but rather a supportive partnership from which the external funding institution that provided the initial help can withdraw after some time without the people affected by the emergency situation finding themselves back in it again.

This means that only tasks are taken over which cannot be managed by the affected persons by themselves.

Children learn to grow plants

HELPING PEOPLE TO HELP THEMSELVES ALISSA HEGE

So what exactly does this theoretical approach look like in practice? In concrete terms, this self-help can consist, for example, of loans from which a family can buy a piece of land, on which they can then grow vegetables to feed themselves and at the same time sell produce.

From the money generated by the sales the loan can ideally be repaid. Or education and the transfer of certain know-how is supported, so that people learn how to manage their households or create a school basis for further education. A key role is often played by women, who are „helped to help themselves“ through various types of „workshops“ or microcredits as a means of enabling. The aim is to help them take care of their families and earn income.

If you type „help for self-help“ into a search engine, most of the hits are pages of aid organizations in development cooperation that offer this. For example, children learning to grow plants.

Help for self-help - that sounds conclusive at first glance and we have all heard it enough – but is it actually offered? Or is it rather an empty term, easily understood by the reader, used to create the appearance of sustainable development cooperation and to attract the reader as a donor? Organizations that provide „help for self-help“ can also describe it, that is, their approach to the principle becomes visible in their practical and comprehensible work.

We at Streetkids International e.V. also state „help for self-help“ as the guiding principle for our work. Orphans who have lost their parents and whose relatives can no longer care for them are given a safe home, education and step-by-step support. The foundation for functioning member of society is always formed during the pre- and post-pubescent stages of a person.

The children have a regular daily routine in which they learn basic hygiene measures or for example help grow fruit and vegetables in the garden. In this way, they learn skills that will be useful to them in life so that they can look after themselves later on. An important pillar of „helping people to help themselves“ at Streetkids International e.V. is education which gives the orphans the opportunity to grow into mature and responsible citizens.

There is a Montessori Kindergarten as well as a Learning Center on the premises which ensures that no one is disadvantaged. Through educational sponsorships the children are able to attend college or university or receive an apprenticeship. This provides them with good opportunities on the job market. Once they have completed their education and found a job, they no longer need financial support. Anyone can provide an educational sponsorship and pave the way for a child to become independent.

As soon as the children are grown up and can leave the orphanages, they are given a transitional allowance. Through the organization's local network and our social workers, we try to ensure that the young adults have a successful start in their lives outside the orphanage. That way the self-help approach of Streetkids International e.V. achieves its goal, as the young people are equipped with the qualifications to stand on their own two feet. New space is created for needy children. Contact with former residents of the orphanages is maintained whenever possible.

In the 20 years of our existence we were able to accompany many children on their life's journey. They came to us as young children in need of help, living in very poor conditions, and left us as responsible and self-sufficient young adults who are able to provide for themselves sufficiently.

Furaha, a young woman who found shelter at the orphanage in 2005 as a child of 11, graduated from the Montessori Teachers Training College in 2014 and has since been running her own Montessori kindergarten. Furaha completed her education and thus achieved a secure livelihood as a qualified staff member in our kindergarten! Joshua is also a good example that our „help for self-help“ bears fruit. He was one of the boys from our first generation and learned to be a car mechanic. Although he had some problems at school, he did not give up and today he organizes with the fishermen the sale of crabs to the Chinese wholesalers. Joshua thus has a job that secures him financially and now lives with his wife in his house in Saadani National Park. He has been on our local board of directors since 2010.

Through the Corona pandemic, it became clear that avoiding a relationship of dependency between the funding institution and those affected is beneficial. As you know, due to the virus, air travel was severely restricted and the Board's visit to Tanzania was cancelled.

Nevertheless the orphan village staff had the situation under control. They were able to organize themselves and keep the operation running. This is due to the fact that they had been equipped with the tools of independence from the very beginning, with an eye to the future. At least as far as the „non-financial“ is concerned.

More projects are planned for the near future. The children will be given the opportunity to learn German. This will enable them to complete an education in Germany and have good opportunities on the Tanzanian job market. If the children get such an education sponsored, they have to support another child financially in their education as soon as they earn their own money. In this way, one child's education also helps another child's education long term, thus paying it forward.

In addition, a HelpCenter is planned in Morogoro, for which financial support is still needed. In the HelpCenter, needy families will receive monthly donations in the form of rice, beans, corn flour, oil and sugar in order to feed all family members sufficiently. One reason for the high number of orphans is that the parents have died and the relatives do not have sufficient financial means to provide for the children themselves.

HELPING PEOPLE TO HELP THEMSELVES

The HelpCenter was intended to counteract this problem. In addition, this planned project clearly demonstrates that „help for self-help“ should only provide support in the areas where it is really necessary.

There will be no intervention in the lives of those affected, they will not become the „property“ of an aid organization, but necessary donations in kind will be made. The affected persons thus continue to lead independent, self-determined lives.

It is standard practice for companies and institutions to use words with positive connotations to distinguish themselves. That makes sense since they want to win customers. I know how easy it is to be influenced by this, without really differentiating between the positive image of an institution or a company created by clever word choice and the actual reality.

Particularly during my internship here at Streetkids, I've looked at what the work looks like behind the scenes, how widely used terms like „help for self-help“ are actually implemented. What I took away from this is to question more often why and how certain terms are used. Maybe I can encourage you to do the same.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

OUR ANNUAL MEETING was held on 4th January 2020. We added Joshua, one of our former children, to our Board of Directors as a Trustee. He is now one of the youngest Board members, lives in Sadaani, has built his home and knows how hard life is. We want him to be a role model for our children. At the annual general meeting, we discuss all the issues that are important for the following year – budget, maintenance, everything regarding our children, school changes and everything to do with personnel and authority matters. For example, we are still waiting for our land registration. It is very tiring dealing with the authorities there and we in Germany often take for granted how smoothly everything works here.

DONATION CERTIFICATE

Just in time for our 20th anniversary, we received the coveted Donation Certificate from the German Donation Council. To receive a donation certificate, auditors from the German Donations Council must verify over a period of three years that NGOs use donations in accordance with the stated purpose. We are delighted to receive this official confirmation of our transparent and responsible use of financial resources in our work.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

We have already posted several articles on the Sustainable Development Goals as our work meets ten of the seventeen goals.

What are they actually all about? The SDGs were launched by the United Nations in 2015 as part of the 2030 Agenda to achieve and maintain sustainable development in all countries within the economic, environmental and social spheres. They are political goals that are used as a guideline to ensure, for example, sustainable equality, economic growth, respect for human rights and the preservation of ecosystems. To achieve these goals, all states must work together.

FINANCES

Due to Corona and travel restrictions, we are unable to prepare our usual financial statements this year. Our receipts are still in Tanzania.

However, we have received exactly €139,144.30 in donations during 2019 and have spent €113,749.29 earmarked for our projects, subject to final audit of all receipts.

We will catch up on the corresponding financial statements in the new year and publish them again on our website. The receipts we can hopefully collect once the travel restrictions have been lifted and will allow us a clean bill of health.

Development of donations in euros

Use of donations in 2019

Our work, improvements and plans for expansion to benefit the children would not be possible without donations so we sincerely thank you for your support! In order to continue to operate, more donations are needed.

At the moment we are still in the planning stage of the HelpCenter in Morogoro, where families who cannot feed their children are supported with gifts in kind. Nutrition and necessary materials for education are provided. Our goal is to help fifty children within five years. Unfortunately, we still lack financial support to realize this project. Ideally, a company would become a sponsor of this project.

We of course are grateful for every donation we receive that brings us one step closer to our goal! You can easily help to give children in Tanzania a better life by donating today.

Asante - Thank you!

NEW WEBSITE

Another highlight of this anniversary year is our new website, which went online in August. It is now even easier to navigate your way around and there are some great new features, such as the option to contact us via WhatsApp. We are proud of the beautiful fresh design and I thank everyone who helped us with it! Special thanks go to Kolli (design), Bianca (texts, editing) and Wendy (our English-speaking Australian). Without this help the project would not have been possible.
